

Nordic Demographic Symposium

Program

Updated August 22nd, 2014

Thursday, September 18th

11.00-	Registration
13.00-14.00	Keynote address: Alexandre Dubois, Nordregio
14.00-14.45	Coffee
14.45-16.15	Parallel sessions

1) Return migration

1. Swedish-born return immigrants by background

Andreas Raneke, Statistics Sweden

andreas.raneke@scb.se

2. Mapping circular migration with register statistics

Tomas Johansson, Statistics Sweden (SCB)

tomas.johansson@scb.se

3. Mother tongue, host country income and return migration

Jan Saarela, University of Helsinki & Åbo Akademi University

jan.saarela@abo.fi

Kirk Scott, Lund University

kirk.scott@ekh.lu.se

2) Children's life & Young adulthood

1. It's hard to be a teenager... - Building up mental health problems among teenagers in Denmark

Mette Lausten, SFI - Danish National Centre for Social Research

mel@sfi.dk

2. Parental risk factors for leaving the parental home at a young age

Hanna Remes, University of Helsinki, Department of Social Research

hanna.remes@helsinki.fi

16.30-18.00 Parallel sessions

3) Data and methods - Canceled

4) Fertility

1. Education, other socio-economic resources across the life course and fertility in men

Jessica Nisén, University of Helsinki

jessica.nisen@helsinki.fi

Pekka Martikainen, University of Helsinki

pekka.martikainen@helsinki.fi

Mikko Myrskylä, London School of Economics and Political Science

m.myrskylä@lse.ac.uk

Karri Silventoinen, University of Helsinki

karri.silventoinen@helsinki.fi

2. Timing of first birth - comparison of native and non-Western women in Denmark

Siddhartha Baviskar, SFI - The Danish National Centre for Social Research sib@sfi.dk Vibeke Jakobsen, SFI - The Danish National Centre for Social Research vij@sfi.dk
Mette Lausten, SFI - The Danish National Centre for Social Research mel@sfi.dk

3. Examining the relationship between housing type and childbearing events in Sweden, 1986-2006.

Margarita Chudnovskaya, Stockholm University margarita.chudnovskaya@sociology.su.se

4. Who is more likely to give their children a head start in life? Explaining seasonal variations in births

Johan Dahlberg, Stockholm University johan.dahlberg@sociology.su.se

5) Housing market, employment and migration

1. The housing market and migration: The regional change in Denmark after the crisis

Hans Thor Andersen, SBI, AAU hta@sbi.aau.dk

2. The effect of accessibility on migration and job change

Siv Schéele, Stockholm University Demographic Unit siv.scheele@sociology.su.se

Svante Berglund, Transport and Location Analysis, KTH

R. Daniel Jonsson, Transport and Location Analysis, KTH

18.15-19.15 Guided tour or wall climbing 20.00- Welcome reception and dinner

Friday, September 19th

9.00-10.30 Parallel sessions

6) Mortalitet

1. Smoothing of probabilities of death for older people in life expectancy tables

Gustaf Strandell, Statistics Sweden (SCB) gustaf.strandell@scb.se

Tomas Johansson, Statistics Sweden (SCB) tomas.johansson@scb.se

2. Mortality and missing mobility: Whether incomplete coverage has weakened past accounts of the mobility and mortality relationship

Sunnee Billingsley, Stockholm University Demography Unit sunnee.billingsley@sociology.su.se

Sven Drefahl, Stockholm University Demography Unit sven.drefahl@sociology.su.se

7) Urbanization and re-population of rural areas

1. Repopulation of the Swedish countryside: Globalisation by international migration

Karen Haandrikman, Department of Human Geography, Stockholm University

karen.haandrikman@humangeo.su.se

2. Urbanization in Denmark from 1990 to 2014 and beyond

Thomas Klintefelt, Statistics Denmark

tmn@dst.dk

3. When has urban net migration gain been at its highest in Finland after 1975 according to Thompson formula and its variants.

Matti Saari, Statistics Finland

matti.saari@stat.fi

10.30-11.00

Coffee

11.00-12.00

Keynote address: Anja Jørgensen, Department of Sociology and Social Work, Aalborg University

12.00-13.30

Lunch

13.30-15.00

Parallel sessions

8) Regional development, neighborhoods and mobility

1. Profiles of the minor/smallest, the medium-sized and the large towns with regard to age, education, structural and socio-economic respects.

Henning Christiansen, Statistics Denmark

hch@dst.dk

2. Gender differences in intentions to move and actual patterns of residential mobility in two rural counties in Denmark.

Claus D. Hansen, Department of Sociology and Social Work, Aalborg University

clausdh@socsci.aau.dk

3. The use of GIS and individual register data to characterise neighbourhoods

Lisbeth B. Knudsen, Department of Sociology and Social Work, Aalborg University

lbk@socsci.aau.dk

9) Do engagement and family matter?

1. Voluntary engagement of the elder generation as a chance for demographic change and healthy Ageing

Annika Daun, Nachbarschaftsberatung Schermbeck nachbarschaftsberatung@schermbeck.de

Friedhelm Koch, Gemeinde Schermbeck

friedhelm.koch@schermbeck.de

2. Migration and rural-urban differences in access to local family networks

Emma Lundholm, Umeå University

emma.lundholm@umu.se

3. Do grandchildren influence the timing of retirement? The presence of grandchildren and the geographical distance between grandparents and grandchildren at the retirement transition

Linda Kridahl, Stockholm University Demography Unit, Department of Sociology

linda.kridahl@sociology.su.se

10) Immigrants' lives & ethnic differences - A

1. Ethnicity and divorce in Finland

Finnäs Fjalar, Åbo akademi ffinnas@abo.fi

2. First generation Turkish and Moroccan migrants in the Netherlands: strong ties between region of origin and place of residence

Han Nicolaas, Statistical researcher Statistics Netherlands

h.nicolaas@ziggo.nl

Farhana Rahman, Program Officer SERAC Bangladesh

farhanarizvi22@yahoo.com

3. Cohabitation premiums in Denmark: income effects in immigrant-native partnerships

Anna Tegunimataka, Lund University

anna.tegunimtaka@ekh.lu.se

Annika Elwert, Lund University

annika.elwert@ekh.lu.se

15.00-15.30

Coffee

15.30-17.00

Parallel sessions

11) Work-family life balance

1. Women's labour market participation; provision of public childcare, cultural, and individual orientations

Rasmus Juul Møberg, Department of Sociology and Social Work, AAU

rjm@socsci.aau.dk

2. The public-private sector fertility gap and the choice of occupation

Karsten Albæk, SFI

kal@sfi.dk

Mona Larsen, SFI

ml@sfi.dk

3. The joint determination of women's childbearing behavior and women's choices of educational fields

Dr. Karin Tesching, Institute for Employment Research

karin.tesching@iab.de

4. Branch of occupation and divorce risks in Denmark

Gunnar Andersson, Demography Unit, Stockholm University

gunnar.andersson@sociology.su.se

12) Immigrants' lives & ethnic differences - B

1. Immigrant Parents' Preferences for Children's Sex: A Register-Based Study of Fertility Behavior in Ten National-Origin Groups

Torkild H Lyngstad, University of Oslo

t.h.lyngstad@sosgeo.uio.no

Mats Lillehagen, University of Oslo

matslille@gmail.com

2. Immigrant fertility in Sweden - a cohort perspective

Johan Tollebrant, Statistics Sweden

johan.tollebrant@scb.se

Lotta Persson, Statistics Sweden

lotta.persson@scb.se

3. Global Religious Futures - projecting religious populations to 2050

Marcin Stonawski, International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis

stonaw@iiasa.ac.at 17.15-18.00

Nordic Demographic Association General Assembly

19.00-

Symposium Dinner & party

Saturday, September 20th

9.30-11.00 Special Session

13) Max Planck Odense Center

Through a number of presentations, this session gives an insight into the work carried out at the Max Planck Odense Centre as well as answers the question 'Are we already half-way?'.

1. Coherent mortality forecast: the case of Nordic countries

Marie-Pier Bergeron Boucher, PhD candidate

2. Late age mortality plateaus rather a question of stage than of age; surprising insights from individual bacteria.

Ulrich Steiner, Associate Professor

3. Diversity of ageing across the tree of life.

Owen Jones, Assistant Professor

4. Am I halfway? Life lived = expected life

Vladimir Canudas-Romo, Associate Professor

11.00-11.30	Coffee
11.30-12.30	Keynote address: Guri-Mette Vestby, Norsk Institutt for By- og Regionforskning (NIBR)
12.30-12.45	Closing remarks
12.45-	Lunch